Editor's Notes

Well, Autumn is here, the temperature's are perfect for cruising with the windows down and the scenery around here is just plain magnificent! I took the Cuda out for my normal weekend jaunt through the passes in my area and was reminded of the days of old again. With the music I listen to and the sound of the exhaust I always get nostalgic, but this particular Sunday reminded me of my childhood annual visits to the Adirondack mountains to attend the Fall Rod Run in Adirondack, New York (Late 60's and early 70's). Majestic peaks, spectacular panoramic views, isolated waterfalls with revving engines and peeling tires resulted in a hot rodder's paradise. What was good about this meet is the fact that there was plenty to do outside the normal venue of a car show. There were museums to attend, colonial forts to visit, various farmer's markets, outdoor music events and theme parks for the whole family to enjoy. Back then there wasn't any concern for the state of the economy, I never heard my parents ever complain about that or the lack of opportunity to succeed. It was a good time in my life, one I cherish.
